

Over the last few years at Notre Dame Prep, I've had more than a few friends talk to me about joining FIRST. They'd always tell me I'd never know how much fun I was missing out on until I just joined. Even after only 2 weeks with this team, I know what they were talking about.

In the past few days, I've had more fun writing, designing and hanging out with like-minded people than I have in months. I've developed friendships with people who were once acquaintances, and I've gotten to meet people I wouldn't have otherwise had the chance to work with. Nothing bring two people together like slaving over the Red Menace (band saw) to cut a tiny piece of metal. This is a job that requires teamwork, and the camaraderie on this team makes the job really easy. I'm proud to work with such a wonderful group of people in such an excellent facility.
